

JUSTICE FORTAS

Justice Fortas and a Wolfson Fee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Abe Fortas received a $20,000 fee from the family of industrialist Louis E. Wolfson three months after he was seated on the Supreme Court and did not return the money until 11 months later, according to Life magazine.

Fortas confirmed Sunday that he was offered and considered a fee but flatly denied that he accepted or that he stepped in to help Wolfson, a former client who went to jail last month on a federal securities law conviction.

The justice said he returned the fee, "tendered" in 1966, "with my thanks." His statement, issued at the court after he had read an advance copy of the Life article, did not say how large the fee was or when he returned it.

Life's account was that the Wolfson Family Foundation, a tax-free charitable organization set up by Wolfson and his brothers, paid Fortas $20,000 in January 1966, three months after he was sworn in as an associate justice.

The article, by William Lambert, said Fortas returned the money in December 1966, three months after the financial tycoon and his longtime business associate, Elkin Gerbert, had been indicted on charges of selling a large block of unregistered stock in a company Wolfson and Gerbert controlled.

Life said "whatever services he may or may not have rendered to the foundation, Justice Fortas' name was being dropped in strategic places by Wolfson and his business associate, Elkin Gerbert, in their effort to stay out of prison."

The Justice Department,

meanwhile, said it "is aware of the contents of the article in Life magazine and currently has the matter under consideration."

Fortas' statement, issued two hours after he had driven to the court on an otherwise quiet Sunday, began: "I have not accepted any fee or emolument from Mr. Wolfson or the Wolfson Family Foundation or any related person or group."

Fortas went on to say he met Wolfson in 1965, before going on the court, after a Wolfson company had retained his old law firm.

The Justice said the foundation offered the fee "in the hope that I would find time and could undertake, consistently with my court obligations, research functions, studies and writings connected with the work of the foundation."

He added: "Concluding that I could not undertake the assignment, I returned the fee with my thanks."

Fortas said that at no time since he became a justice did he give Wolfson or any of his family, associates, foundations or interests any legal advice or services.

The statement said the foundation is engaged in "significant and commendable work" in the field of harmonious racial and religious relations.

Life's version said that Fortas flew down to Wolfson's horse-breeding farm near Ocala, Fla., in June 1966 and was his guest when the Securities and Exchange Commission's "long-fearing investigation finally came to public attention."

The magazine said "it is not easy to pin down the exact extent of the Wolfson-Fortas relationship, nor has Life uncovered evidence making possible a charge that Wolfson hired Fortas to fix his case."

Last year President Johnson nominated Fortas to succeed Earl Warren as Chief Justice. The Senate Judiciary Committee received testimony that while on the court Fortas had accepted $15,000 to conduct a summer seminar at the American University law school.

The nomination eventually was withdrawn as Fortas faced obvious defeat at the hands of senators who criticized either his conduct or the court's liberal stance.

Rumors have cropped up since that he plans to resign. He said last week he has "no such intention." Sunday afternoon, Banning E. Whittington, the Court press officer, said "I see no indication" that the Justice is contemplating stepping down.

13 Hurt at Paltz In Thruway Crash

By WALTER S. CLARK

NEW PALTZ

Thirteen persons were injured at 4:40 a.m. today, and 19 others narrowly escaped injury, when a Grey Coach Line bus from Canada crashed into the rear of a tandem tractor-trailer on the Thruway two miles north of this village.

In another grinding two-car collision which occurred at 1 a.m. Sunday on Route 209 near Fordmoor Road, Town of Wawarsing, a 20-year-old petty officer of the Seabees was fatally injured and four other persons were hurt.

Orange County authorities reported an 11-year-old boy accidentally drowned in a pond.

One of Worst in Area

Thruway state troopers said the bus-truck collision was one of the worst to occur in this area on the superhighway.

Two ambulances from Doctors Ambulance Service in Kingston were dispatched to the scene and removed the injured to Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals. Only two of the injured were admitted for further treatment and X-ray examination.

Thruway troopers said the tractor-trailer owned by Eastern Freightways, bound from Buffalo to Carlstadt, N. J., was driven by 39-year-old Richard J. Baer, of 800 Shurwood Court, Depuy. The bus carrying 32 passengers to New York City was operated by John T. Skvarla, 42, of 39 Pulaski Street, Kingston, Pa. He is an employee of Greyhound Bus Lines, a subsidiary of Grey Coach Lines.

Troopers cited the bus driver for following too close. He was scheduled to answer the charge before Town Justice H. Parks Glenn.

The two passengers of the bus admitted to Kingston Hospital and reported in satisfactory condition were listed by Troop T authorities as, Robert Allison, 3rd, 23, of 51 West 5th Street, Oswego, and Annie Oakes, also 23, of 22 Prospect Avenue, Buffalo. Allison suffered lacerations of the legs.

Two crews from Doctors Ambulance responded to calls and took six of the injured to Kingston Hospital and the other seven to Benedictine Hospital.

Both Southbound

State Police Sgt. John McLean said both vehicles were southbound when the bus slammed into the rear of the double-trailer rig. A trooper said the rear of the trailer and the front of the bus which was from Toronto, were damaged heavily. None of the cargo of the rig was dumped on the superhighway, but some was reportedly damaged.

The New York City-bound bus had picked up a number of passengers in Upstate New York cities. Many of those aboard were from Canada.

Traffic on the Thruway was slowed for hours at the scene of the crash until the injured and the vehicles were removed. Some of those who were not hurt were picked up by another Greyhound bus and taken to their destination.

Headon Crash

Ellenville State Police said Petty Officer 3/c Lee A. Wright, of Napanoch, was the victim of the Route 209 headon crash. He was riding alone at the time of the accident, which involved a car driven by Edsel D. Pomeroy, 28, of Highland.

Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson, who investigated with Troopers Francis Steiner and Oscar Gray, said Wright died at Ellenville Community Hospital at 4:45 a.m. of brain injuries and hemorrhages. He also suffered a fractured right femur and right hip.

Injured in the mishap were Pomeroy, who suffered head injuries and a broken leg. His wife, Lois, 29, received neck injuries and fractures of the jaw, and their two children, Penelope, 9, contusions of the head and Wayne, 7, who sustained lacerations and bruises. The children were released after treatment.

Mrs. Pomeroy was later transferred to Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Ellenville troopers reported Wright, who was stationed at a Rhode Island base, was traveling along Route 209 when a car owned by his father, Clarence, veered off the right side of the highway, and as the youth attempted to straighten the course of the vehicle he overcorrected and the automobile skidded down the highway and hit the Pomeroy car broadside.

Hurled 50 Feet

The impact hurled Wright about 50 feet from the vehicle, authorities said.

Coroner Chipp said he is withholding a verdict.

The victim of the Orange County drowning was 11-year-old David Rehrig, of Rock Tavern, who lost his life in Brown's Pond in the Town of New Windsor.

Hurley Marine in Hero's Role

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

His father's advice was "hug the ground and hug it good," but Marine PFC Robert Maddaloni nearly lost his life when he singlehandedly destroyed an enemy machinegun nest near DaNang, Vietnam last week.

According to a United Press International report filed from Vietnam, Maddaloni, the 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Rigglesman of Englishtown, N. J., reported in the UPI story, "He had spotted an enemy machinegun about 100 yards in front of him," Rigglesman said.

The UPI story also went on to say that Maddaloni was evacuated from the combat area the next day with minor flesh wounds inflicted by small arms fire.

In Hip and Stomach

"It was a lot worse than that," his father told The Freeman today. "Bob was hit with two bullets from that machine-gun, one in the hip and one in the stomach."

Maddaloni was flown to a hospital in Tokyo for treatment and later to St. Albans Hospital in Long Island. "The doctors say he'll be in the hospital for about seven months," Mr. Maddaloni said. The older Maddaloni is a cook for the Ulster County Sheriff's Department.

PFC Maddaloni, a graduate of Oteora High and Ulster County Community College, enlisted in the Marines last June. He married the former Beatrice Bailey of Kingston shortly thereafter.

Wrote Mother

Maddaloni said his son had been overseas for about three weeks when he wrote his mother asking her not to worry about him. "I can watch out for myself," he wrote. "But you'd better watch those guys with the long hair and the signs. I've got a job to do and I'll do it to the best of my ability."

The elder Maddaloni is a veteran of both World War I and World War II. Did the combat veteran give his son any advice? "He gave the advice to me," Maddaloni said. "Things are altogether different nowadays. I just told him to be careful and hug the ground."

Young Maddaloni has already received the Purple Heart Medal for being wounded in combat. "He was always a spunky kid," Mr. Maddaloni said of his only son. "There may be more medals. We don't know. We just want him to get better."

His family will visit the young Marine at St. Albans Thursday.

Curran Sticks to His Word--Rosendale Services Suspended

ROSENDALE village during an average month. He said when he took office, the cash assets of the village were about $1,000 and placed the blame for the shortage of cash squarely on the Reid administration and the former mayor's rush to pay debts before leaving office. Curran said almost $20,000 was paid by Reid over the election period.

Village services were kept in operation over the weekend to provide police protection during the American Legion 50th Anniversary parade Sunday afternoon. Hundreds of spectators lined the parade route which wound its way from the Tillson Firehouse, through the village to Route 32. Legion posts, fire companies, marching bands and Boy and Girl Scouts from throughout the county took part in the event.

Near-Empty Coffers

The mayor, who has been in office for a little more than three weeks, took the startling course of suspending all municipal services and laying off employees because of the near-empty village coffers.

According to the mayor the operating funds reached the critical stage after last week's payroll was met, necessitating the surprise move. He pleaded with taxpayers to help by paying taxes as soon as possible out of the goodness of their hearts. He asked the cooperation of residents with the austerity schedule of curtailed garbage collection in the village.

The mayor, with his suspension of services, sparked old political fires, prompting comment from former Mayor Joseph S. Reid who said "there is ample money" for the village in the form of state aid and back taxes. Among the sources he noted were two checks of $1,500 each due from the state as village aid and money from the recent tax sale of Main Street buildings which were being leveled early this week.

Monthly Need—$4 to $6,000
Curran said it takes between $4,000 and $6,000 to operate the limits of the Catskill Park which extends into Sullivan and Delaware Counties. The main effect would be to remove the blight of billboards from some of the most scenic highways including Routes 28, 212 and 375 in Ulster County. Not affected would be signs within incorporated villages and signs located on the site of the business they advertise.

The blue line extends north, south and west of Route 209 and the Route 28 traffic circle and includes all lands along Route 28 to Fleischmanns. In Greene County the blue line runs north and south and extends along Route 23A and its intersection with 32. In Woodstock, the blue line runs along Rt. 212 and crosses at the Woodstock town line and includes all of Woodstock.

The bill provides that the law apply only within the blue line operation over the weekend to provide police protection during the American Legion 50th Anniversary parade Sunday afternoon. Hundreds of spectators lined the parade route which wound its way from the Tillson Firehouse, through the village to Route 32. Legion posts, fire companies, marching bands and Boy and Girl Scouts from throughout the county took part in the event.

Employees involved in the lay-off include nine parttime policemen, a highway garbage employee and the eight village officials salaries including the mayor. The two school crossing guards are included in the suspension but were on duty on a volunteer basis today for the protection of the children.

Curran had said previously that the length of the suspension could be for a week up to more than 60 days. No monies are anticipated before June 30 when new tax bills become due. Water district bills are due in mid-July.

An appeal to the State Audit and Control office brought a shocked disbelief but no money. State Deputy Controller John J. Feeney said there is no way his office can help except with advice.

It is hoped that the natural beauty of the Catskills will be aided in regulating and controlling outdoor advertising. Now the Catskill Park will enjoy the same degree of protection as the Adirondack Park," said the legislators. "We are very pleased to have been able to successfully pass this legislation in both the State Assembly and Senate and we are hopeful that Gov. Rockefeller will enact it into law."

The impact of the legislation on the county is apparent in that it will affect 1,900 miles of highways. Town roads in the County total 1,224 and county roads 443, much of which is in the state park.

Bell and Rolison's bill was the result of a sign and billboard control undertaken by the Ulster County Planning Board.

Park Area Billboard Ban Approved by Legislature

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

A ban on billboards in the Catskill Park area including Ulster County, presented as a bill before the Legislature, passed both Houses and has been forwarded to Governor Rockefeller for consideration.

Announcement was made by the measure's sponsors, Assemblyman H. Clark Bell and Sen. Jay P. Rolison who explained that the bill contains a grandfather clause protecting existing billboards which may stay in operation until they are fully depreciated or become non-conforming under the Lady Bird law recently passed by the State Legislature and the Federal Government.

The bill provides that the law apply only within the blue line

limits of the Catskill Park which extends into Sullivan and Delaware Counties. The main effect would be to remove the blight of billboards from some of the most scenic highways including Routes 28, 212 and 375 in Ulster County. In commenting on the bill, Bell and Rolison said:

"Highway beautification and preservation of the forever wild portions of our state will be greatly assisted with signing of this bill. The Catskill Park is part of the area of the state protected under the State Constitution as an area to be preserved for enjoyment of generations yet to come. This bill will guarantee that the Catskill Park will not be exposed to excessive outdoor commercial advertising."

Bell and Rolison said they were happy to announce that the legislation received overwhelming support from many citizens in the Catskill Park and organizations such as Mid-Hudson Patterns for Progress, Ulster and Greene County Planning Boards, Laurels Garden Club, Little Gardens Club, Open Space Institute of New York, the Noonday Club and many others.

The Lay Budget Committee, which on Friday released its recommendations to the Onteora Central Schools Board of Education on the proposed 1969-70 OCS budget, today made public the reply received from the school board.

The Lay Budget Committee was composed of more than 30 interested area citizens, who had been appointed by the board last winter to analyze budgetary needs and make recommendations that might guide the board in its own budget sessions.

Five major recommendations came out of the Lay Committee sessions, and these were publicized in Friday's edition of The Freeman. The school board's reply to these recommendations came in a letter from board president Richard O. Langham, to Lay Budget Committee chairman, John S. Schonger.

Would Aid School Districts

Rolison - Bell Measure Passes

ALBANY — The bill provides that the state aid formula will be paid on the basis of these additional students one year sooner than under present practice. At the years for the formula to catch up to the additional student load.

Their Comments

In commenting on the bill Rolison and Bell said: "This bill is of significant importance to the school districts of our state who increasingly are becoming faced with the addition of a large number of pupils because of parochial school closings.

"The bill provides that the state aid formula will be paid on the basis of these additional students one year sooner than under present practice. At the years for the formula to catch up to the additional student load.

"This legislation will be of great benefit and relief to local taxpayers. Many times these districts will be faced with providing additional teachers and classroom facilities because of the sudden influx of students from a non-public school. In our judgement, it is obviously unfair not to have this increase reflected in the state aid formula as quickly as possible, it into law."

Urging Rocky Approval

"We are very pleased to have been able to successfully pass this legislation and are strongly urging the Governor to enact it into law."

Red Camps Rocked By Waves of B52s

SAIGON (UPI)—Eight flights of America's biggest warplanes unloaded their 20-ton bombloads Sunday night and today onto guerrilla camps on Saigon's northern approaches. U.S. guns smashed a Communist bivouac in the demilitarized zone (DMZ).

Four of the B-52 raids north of Saigon rocked Viet Cong and North Vietnamese camps near the U.S. green beret outpost at Katum on the Cambodian border 65 miles north-northwest of the capital. It brought to 51 the number of B52 raids there in the past 11 days.

Military spokesmen announcing the raids today had no comment on a statement by Prime Minister Pham Dang Lam of North Vietnam that the United States was "de-escalating" the war—something the Communists have demanded as a prelude to peace.

War communiques did not support Lam. They said Allied patrols fought the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese on 10 fronts Sunday, killing 122 Communists. American losses were put at nine killed and 13 wounded.

Stepped-up offensives and patrols have been the reason cited by U.S. commanders for the lull in the Communists' nationwide winter-spring offensive. Intelligence reports reported the guerrillas withdrawing to border areas to resupply.

A U.S. spotter pilot patrolling the northern border area spotted a new Communist buildup in the southern half of the DMZ Sunday and called in Marine artillery salvos that triggered five fireballs and damaged four bunkers.

American headquarters said it was the fifth time in four days that U.S. guns had opened up on Communist buildings in the zone, bringing to 92 the number of DMZ incidents considered "significant" since the bombing of North Vietnam stopped Nov. 1.

The B52 raids into the border area around Katum coincided with a battle nine miles south of the outpost Sunday in which four American troopers and three Communists were killed, military spokesmen said.

Sees Hanoi Backing Down

PARIS (UPI)—A South Vietnamese official said today his nation's peace talks delegation was convinced the Communists will back down from their demand for the total withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

This, he said, would provide a breakthrough in the negotiations which began in January and bogged down with the Communists promising progress only after American soldiers left the war zone.

The official's statement came amid reports from both Saigon and Washington that pointed to a partial withdrawal of U.S. forces as a sign of America's willingness to end the fighting.

Communist sources in Paris said almost three weeks ago that they would accept such a withdrawal of perhaps 50,000 GIs as fulfilling their demand for the pullout of American forces from Vietnam.

The U.S. negotiating team from the beginning has asked Hanoi to discuss the withdrawal of both North Vietnamese and American troops at the same time. The Communists have refused.

For the first time, Hanoi Sunday hinted that the United States was "de-escalating" the war, something the North Vietnamese would look on favorably in the context of the Vietnam peace negotiations.

Police in Madison, Wis., Potsdam, N.Y., and Fort Collins Colo., were sorting through the aftermath of student-police confrontations which saw about 269 persons arrested during the weekend.

Fighting continued at Madison until early today and authorities considered invoking a curfew tonight.

The New York Board of Higher Education announced the reopening of CCNY late Sunday and said it had asked black and Puerto Rican students occupying the south campus to leave voluntarily.

CCNY President Buell G. Gallagher ordered the 18,000-student school closed April 23 when 150 protesters seized the south campus and renamed it "University of Harlem."

Gallagher said 11 days of negotiation had produced no agreement on several of the students' demands. But he said if they did not leave the south campus in time for today's classes, "we will have to take appropriate action."

The chancellor of the City University, Dr. Albert H. Bowker, said appropriate steps will be taken if dissidents do not leave the campus before the scheduled 8 a.m. resumption of classes.

Five Candidates Running for Two Posts on City Board

By WALTER S. CLARK

KINGSTON — A contest for two vacancies on the Board of Education of the Kingston Consolidated District for five candidates, is nearing an end. The election is scheduled for Tuesday, May 6, with polls open from 12 noon to 9 p. m.

Voters of the district also will decide whether to approve or reject a proposition which would authorize the school board to increase the school tax limit from a maximum of 1.75 to 2 per cent of full valuation. The proposal was defeated by a large majority in 1968.

Candidates seeking office for 5-year terms are: Harold E. Keator Jr., incumbent; Seymour R. Semilof of Rolling Meadows; Mrs. Bernadine J. Collier of Zena; Everett Hodge of Kingston; and H. Peter Hoffman of Lake Katrine.

Statements have been made by the candidates.

Keator said, "Before making up my mind to run again for a second, 5-year term as a member of the Board of Education, I gave this decision much thought. I felt that as a result of the experience, knowledge, and background which I have gained during the five years, I would be better able to serve the district and to provide a continuity to the operation of the district which I believe to be important."

"Since I have been on the Board, I have compared the public school system to a three-legged stool—one leg representing the students, one leg representing the staff and the other representing the taxpayers. In order to have stability, each leg must be strong and any one of these three legs depends upon the other two. The basic reason for the existence of public schools is to educate our children. To accomplish this goal, we must have a competent staff and the taxpayers who have to pay the bills."

Education Most Important

"In making decisions over these past five years, I have endeavored to consider all three and have tried to reach this decision giving consideration to the best interest of all three. Education of our children is most important to them and to our country," Keator urged voters to go to the polls Tuesday and vote for two candidates of their choice.

Semilof has suggested that the image of the school system can be greatly improved by more wide-spread publicity of accomplishments of individual students within the school district and by wider coverage of achievements of various school programs such as extracurricular activities, service clubs, school plays and pageants and trips. He also has stated that each individual school within the district attempt to form a greater bond of communication with parents of students through more active parent organizations, and greater and more frequent use of such publications as Kingston City Schools Focus on Education.

Would Propose Handbook

The candidate said that if elected, he would propose the publication of a handbook about the school system to be distributed to all district residents. Such a guide, he said, should be prepared by a committee consisting of board members, administrators and students, and should contain such salient facts as the standards of discipline, dress, punctuality and other things expected from each student.

One of Semilof's major points is to improve the communication between the schools and area residents. He said he is not in favor of lowering taxes at this time, as he feels the current educational level must be retained.

Hodge said he is definitely opposed to raising the tax limit from 1.75 to 2 per cent. He said he believes school taxes should be frozen and the budget should be explored to see if sufficient savings can be made that will make a real "freeze" possible.

"I believe we should develop a guidance program for the whole child from kindergarten until he is ready to make a living," Hodge said. "Organize our program to see that every child has the kind of experience and education which the fortunate child gets in his home, a good church and a good community. Provide the best and most experienced teachers available for students during the formative years. Kindergarten through the eight grade."

Hodge continued, "Develop a family life program that will involve the parents. We must look at education as a triangle—student-home-school. We cannot over-emphasize the fact that the public schools today must teach the rich, the poor, the bright, the slow, those who read and those who don't, those who will drive trucks, and those who run banks and head our industry."

Hodge said that we must endeavor to make the school serve the students needs by today's standards, not yesterday's. "I favor a student's counsel in fact, recognized by the school system where students can criticize curriculum, criticize a teacher or teachers, recommend changes without fear or reprisal," Hodge said. "Hodge said. He added, 'the student must be made to feel wanted and feel that he has a share in the school system."

MRS. COLLIER, a Zena resident, said she will provide knowledgeable influence on school policy, if elected. She has been active many years with school matters and due to this she has been involved with teachers, principals, contractors, interested parents, administrators and the school board.

"This involvement," she said, "has led to some familiarity on my part with many aspects of running the schools. I am aware of what the unpaid post I seek requires in the way of knowledge and time, and as I am not affiliated with any business, I have more time than many of the other candidates to devote to this post. My investment of three children as well as my tax dollars prompts me to like to protect this mine-and-your like investment."

Attending College

Mrs. Collier is presently attending the college in New Paltz and completing her education with majors in Education and Behavioral Sciences. "Being in the academic world now," she said, "I can also view education from the student viewpoint."

"I deal with educators from areas other than Kingston and am aware of what is happening now. Mrs. Collier was instrumental in the idea of a School Transportation Handbook for parents, and was one of the co-authors of the handbook distributed in the district last fall. "Last year," she recalled, "I strongly opposed the tax limit increase and published facts and figures which led to my position."

The Zena resident said she again opposes the tax limit increase on the grounds that more money is not needed.

"What is needed," she said, "is a re-evaluation of the budget to determine how to survive within it. I feel an expenditure of over $1200 per child per year should be adequate and if it is not, something is wrong. I realize the importance of a good education, but education must not cost as much as it possibly can. Of course, as this area grows, new schools must be built to accommodate the increasing numbers of students, however, new school construction does not fall under the tax limit, it is another category of taxation."

Improvement Needed

Mrs. Collier noted that there are several areas of school board operation that must be improved, and added, "the main one is communication." She feels more public information should be available and that the Board should prime parents before hand to departures from traditional approaches to education.

Examples of this are new math, sex education, and drug addiction, she noted. If elected she said she will visit various schools in the district to better understand the situation of each school.

"I believe the job of education is a community job and would like to see the assistance of some of the many capable people in our area utilized by the school board. She encourages an open door policy and invites opinion and ideas."

HOFFMAN said in a statement that the basic duty of a school board member is to attempt to maintain a reasonable balance between expenditures and the provision for quality education consistent with the requirements of the times. A veteran of the U.S. Navy, Hoffman said, "as a taxpayer, I certainly don't advocate wasteful spending, but at the same time I don't believe in causing a serious curtailment of the current school curriculum."

"After all," Hoffman said, "these youngsters are our future and I believe it is to our advantage to make certain that they have access to a good public school education. Hopefully, when we are ready for retirement, these youngsters will be taking advantage of the good education they received by providing a good environment for us to enjoy in retirement."

"If elected, I intend to my best to provide them with a good preparation for the future consistent with reasonable expenditures," Hoffman said. Speaking on the proposed increase of the 1.75 per cent tax limit, the candidate said, "I can understand why such a measure might be necessary. It could result from the fact that the increase in the assessed true valuation of the district's real estate has not kept pace with the inflationary trend currently plaguing this nation."

Hoffman said the rising costs in labor and materials, the increase in enrollment along with the reduction in state aid could conceivably strain this limit. "However, I have gotten the impression from various sources that the situation may not be critical until next year," Hoffman added. "Therefore, I intend to vote against an increase in the limit unless between now and the election, I find that the situation is critical and the details of why are available."

Hoffman, a senior associate engineer until he was advanced to a computer programmer at IBM, has been an active participant in various forms of athletic competition through his life and in 1968 organized a Football Booster's Club in an attempt to upgrade Kingston High football by stimulating more community interest. He managed the Town of Ulster Little League team. He is a member of the Reformed Church and is currently the chief deacon. He resides in Lake Katrine with his wife, Doris and daughter Holly Eve.

Budgetary Proposal, Amendment Set for Voting in Highland

HIGHLAND — The 1969-70 budget for the Highland Central School District will be presented by Board of Education and voted on by the taxpayers in the annual budget meeting Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. at the Highland Elementary School.

In addition to the budgetary proposal, the taxpayers will also be asked to vote on an amendment concerning a portable classroom program, and on Wednesday will select three Board of Education members.

The new budget totals $2,302,134.36 and is up $170,972.82 from last year's educational expenditures.

The school board has not yet made known the amount of the new tax rate, which will no doubt be increased, because the assessors have not yet determined whether there has been an increase in the "true value" of the properties in the district.

A spokesman for the Board of Education said that every effort was made to trim the budget without damage to the present program.

"New programs will not be offered, 'desirable' expenditures were replaced by 'necessary' ones, and expensive equipment items were drastically reduced. However, professional positions were not eliminated since all basic education revolves around a good teacher-student relation," he said.

The Board of Education attributed the budgetary increases to the impact of the state aid ceiling, the present inflationary period, and the expenses incurred by ever-increasing enrollment.

The largest increases were in the area of the Board of Education, Instruction Regular Day School, Transportation, and Undistributed Expenses.

The Board of Education has been allocated $21,250, up $17,000 from last year. The large increase is due to architectural fees ($9,000) and an impending tax rebate decision ($10,000.)

The regular day school instructional program has been allocated $1,287,506.45, up $77,777.70. This category includes the salaries of teaching personnel.

Transportation was increased to $144,456.07, up $21,331.07, primarily because of the additional cost resulting from the replacement of two school buses and the additional costs involving potential double sessions.

The allocation for items listed under the category of Undistributed Expenses was increased to $299,561.58, up $40,851.29. This category includes such items as teachers and employee retirement, social security, and health insurance.

In addition to the budget the voters will be asked to vote upon an amendment concerning

Why Spy Ships and Planes?

Clark Clifford, the former Secretary of Defense, made an intensive review of United States espionage operations after the Bay of Pigs fiasco, at President Kennedy's behest. From that study, he judged that intelligence gathering, such as was done by the captured intelligence ship Pueblo or the EC-121 reconnaissance plane shot down by North Korean fighter planes, are vital to survival.

Speaking to a group of lawyers in Washington, Clifford said that penetration of an enemy nation's security by human agents is now practically impossible. Onerous, mean, difficult and dangerous as it is, he said this nation must continue 24-hour-a-day spying because intelligence is a vital stabilizer among nations.

Using Cuba, North Korea and the Soviet Union as examples, Clifford declared that in the event of significant troop movements, or an escalation of weaponry, "we have to know. We can't just sit there and wait and hope that nothing inimical is going to happen."

Nonprovocative missions, such as those in international sea and air lanes, provide nations with an unhurried look at the enemy's forces. As they gather information, a nation is less likely blindly to strike out at some country it feels is an enemy. An aggressor is deterred because he knows that some have a very accurate idea of his capability.

In this sense, gathering intelligence is our very first line of defense.

Power Mower Time

The time has arrived when the grass is high enough to start the seasonal chore of keeping it cut.

In a note of warning in this regard for those who use power mowers, the National Safety Council points out that 100,000 persons annually are injured by rotary power mowers.

The most common injury is caused by objects thrown by the power mowers. A rock, a piece of wood or wire hidden in the grass can lead to serious injury.

There are several ways operators of lawn mowers can cut down on the number of injuries. First, clear the area of all loose objects that might be struck in the course of cutting. Make sure children and pets are safely out of the way when operating the mower. Know the performance capability of your machine and keep it properly serviced and repaired.

Above all, never leave the mower unattended. And remember, never try to unclog a mower while the motor is running.

At the beginning of the season, make sure the mower is cleaned and properly lubricated.

These hints may not lessen the summer chore, but careful adherence to them may get you and your family through the summer without injury.

Fight on Crime

President Nixon's fight on crime moves into the field of local enforcement, traditionally home controlled, in order to insure that local authority is not subverted. One law he requested would make the systematic corruption of local officials, including the police, a federal crime. Both the giver and the receiver of bribes would be subject to federal prosecution.

In addition, Mr. Nixon asked for power to act against illicit gambling. He estimated the total "take" from illicit gambling at $20 billion to $50 billion a year. The latter figure is greater than the total revenues and expenditures of the U. S. Government as recently as the year 1951.

Mr. Nixon asked for $61 million for the fiscal year 1970 as the total federal commitment to the drive on organized crime. This would be divided among the Justice Department, Internal Revenue Service, the Labor Department, Customs Service, Secret Service, the Post Office and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

That is spreading the federal resources very thin, especially against organized crime with its billions. Properly and aggressively used, it should make a beginning of the war at home.

Costly March

Nationwide it cost 5.1 per cent more to live in this country last month than it did a year earlier. March figures just released run about a month behind. The rise is believed continuing in April.

In fact, the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which keeps tabs on living costs, does not see any relief until the end of the next quarter, at midsummer, when lower food prices may show an overall improvement.

Cost of living is the first casualty marked by inflation. It will drop only when the war on inflation begins to show definite results.

People forced from their homes by wars around the world today now number 17,226,915, the U.S. Committee for Refugees reports. The massive displaced person problem in South Vietnam has been eased somewhat, but the Nigerian-Biafran war has added 3.6 million. The refugee is the tragic result of the violence of these times,

"You've Come a Long Way, Baby!"

David Lawrence Says

Has Nixon Administration 'Backbone' to Prosecute?

WASHINGTON — It remains to be seen whether the administration through its prosecuting power is really going to have "the backbone to stand up against" the organizers and perpetrators of a widespread pattern of violence in more than 200 universities, colleges or high schools since the first of the year, President Nixon, in a speech on Tuesday to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, said.

"When we find situations in numbers of colleges and universities which reach the point where students in the name of dissent and in the name of change terrorize other students and faculty members, when they rifle files, when they engage in violence, when they carry guns and knives in the classrooms, then I say it is time for faculties, boards of trustees and school administrators to have the backbone to stand up against this kind of situation."

But Mr. Nixon puts the principal responsibility for action on the shoulders of the universities, when actually no university is able by itself to cope with the big conspiracy operating from coast to coast which has upset so many campuses.

The Attorney General John N. Mitchell now has announced, however, that the "administration's patience is at an end" and that he will use the 1968 Civil Rights Act to begin federal action.

Senator Gordon Allott, Republican of Colorado, on the same day that the President was speaking, told the Senate that the colleges and universities of the country for nearly three weeks now have been subjected "to an unprecedented and dramatically well-organized assault by the Students for a Democratic Society — SDS — and their auxiliary organizations." He said that the assault is expected to reach a climax in the next week and that indications are that more than 30 colleges and universities may be struck.

The Colorado senator pointed out that officials of the SDS have been quoted as saying that "they view this moment in history as one similar to the 1905 Russian Revolution." He added: "Are we going to allow this militant and tiny minority of anarchists and revolutionaries to turn campus properties into a base for subversive and militant activities against the United States?"

The senator cited, in their own words, the goals of SDS leaders: "Smash the military in the schools — no reserve officers training corps — no war or counter-insurgency research — no military or war recruiting — no draft assemblies in high schools — no police training on the campus."

"The 'spring rebellion,' as the campus disruption is being called, is related in various ways to the Vietnam war and racial friction. But basically the objective is to bring disorder," Mr. Allott declared.

"The pattern is the same everywhere, of course, including in my own state of Colorado. In fact, I have in my possession an SDS document handed out recently at a Denver East high school basketball game instructing students on how to make homemade bombs and other explosive devices."

Almost every campus of any size has been hit with some kind of militant student activity. The presence of rifles and arms has been noted in several instances. Secret workshops have been held to teach students how to use weapons and explosives. Senator Allott continued:

"We are not dealing with just discontented students who feel they have some legitimate complaints. We are dealing with trained and organized revolutionaries. . . . The time has come for responsible members of Congress to focus attention on this dangerous menace."

On Thursday Republicans and Democrats rose in the Senate to call for Grand Jury action, and one by one warned of lawlessness, revolution, anarchy, and Communist influence in the colleges.

Senator John L. McClellan, Democrat of Arkansas, announced that his permanent investigation subcommittee was beginning an investigation of the disorders on the campuses, including the "motives and financing" of such groups as the SDS, the black panthers and others which have been active in college disturbances. Senator Allott spoke again to the Senate, declaring:

"Documents such as those issued by the SDS clearly indicate, beyond any reasonable doubt, that there is an active, aggressive national conspiracy to destroy by force and violence, including the use of dangerous weapons, the peace and dignity of the academic communities."

The national government can prosecute individuals and organizations which operate across state lines to bring about disorder. It is not necessary to get the consent of a university president or its board of trustees before the federal authorities intervene. For the educational institutions are in reality the victims of a nationwide conspiracy which the federal government has failed to squelch.

Many people are beginning to ask whether the Nixon administration has the "backbone" to do the prosecuting job that is essential if national plots are to be broken up and the conspirators taken to court for punishment.

believed Russian techniques and the Russian approach to communism were wrong. The Russians have, time and again, attempted to assert their power in China and in the Chinese Communist party. Over the years, Mao's strongest rivals within China have been men with Russian backing or Russian connections.

After the death of Stalin, Mao has considered himself the true leader of world communism. Here, too, Russia stands in his way. Moscow thus endangers Mao's position, both at home and abroad.

By Mao's reasoning (based on past observation of how this ingenious man operates) it would be very fitting indeed, if he could, with ragged Asian tribesmen create a "Russian" Vietnam that Moscow could not solve with its sophisticated weapons, economic power and modern Communist techniques.

Mao could then say to Communists worldwide and to his people at home — Moscow's methods do not work. You must allow Mao to win.

Drew Pearson Says Presidential Change Takes Place In Bolivia Without Turbulence

North Korean War Jitters In February 1968, Jack Anderson flew to Korea and wrote a revealing series of articles on the belligerency of North Korea. He reported, among other things, that Premier Kim appeared to be itching for trouble with the United States.

Following the shooting down of the EC-121, many newspapers featured similar stories regarding North Korean belligerency, on which Mr. Anderson had informed his readers more than a year ahead.

WASHINGTON — It didn't make the headlines of Charles de Gaulle's abdication in France, but a onetime turbulent country in Latin America last week survived tragedy and political change without turbulence.

Bolivia suffered the loss of its president, Rene Barrientos Ortuño, killed in a helicopter crash, and the vice president, Luis Adolfo Siles-Salinas quietly stepped into his shoes, without incident or revolution. Not a shot was fired in a country where a good many presidents have been shot or hanged in the past.

This highlights the fact that Bolivia, a desperately poor country, high up in the Andes, has made great progress. A few years ago peasant farmers were sold as chattels with the land. But in the last fifteen years Bolivia has undergone a social revolution. The peasants now own their land. They have taken on a new pride, a new determination to improve.

I witnessed this two years ago, when Barrientos flew with Chief Justice Earl Warren to the ancient capital of Sucre, landed on a cow pasture and drove into the heart of the city. Thousands of Indians swarmed through the narrow streets. The hills were steep, the altitude high, the cobblestones rough. But the Indians ran as fast as the motor caravan carrying the chief justice and President Barrientos.

Dressed in rough homespun woolsens and wearing thick, broad-brimmed hats of llama hair, they thronged the public square to shout greetings to their president and the American chief justice. It was a demonstration of loyalty to a leader who was doing his best to improve the status of the Indian masses.

Visit to IPA

Two years before, President Barrientos came to the United States at my invitation, to be the chief speaker at the annual convention of the International Platform Association. He spoke eloquently of the problems of his country and the South American continent, mingled with North Americans, was given an official luncheon by President Johnson, and himself entertained Vice President Humphrey and N. Y. Mayor John Lindsay.

He was a believer in the principle that South Americans must help themselves — borrow money perhaps, but not go on welfare to Uncle Sam. And he carried this out. He did not confiscate a single American company. He was a good salesman, and last summer flew up to San Antonio to participate in the HemisFair and show what Bolivia had to offer the rest of the continent.

Student strikes may be new to American universities, but they were not to him. When students at the University of La Paz started rioting and dared him to enter their campus, he accepted the challenge — without a body guard. The troubles subsided.

As Barrientos was laid to rest, his young widow, Rosa Maria, wrote a letter to new President Siles asking: "For all enemies of my husband, I ask forgiveness. That's the way he would want it to be."

Better Than the ABM

Some Pentagon strategists have concluded that America's retaliatory power can be strengthened most effectively by spending the billions now proposed for an anti-ballistic missile system upon sea-based missiles.

The whole purpose of the ABM system is to protect our strategic missiles so they can be used to retaliate against an enemy. It would be cheaper to build more Polaris submarines, which would be

Jim Bishop: Reporter

There is a man in prison whom I respect. He is Louis E. Wolfson, a tall slender athlete of 57 with deep waves in his hair. He is a patient listener; a patriot; a father who believes in discipline; a rich man with a narrow sense of humor and a strong sense of silent charity.

Maxie, a racetrack waiter, had a bad throat and his friends were betting that he had Big Casino. Wolfson, who owns Harbor View Farms, heard about it and sent Maxie to the best doctors for the best treatment and picked up all the bills. Maxie is now healthy and he carries trays of steaming corned beef and cabbage out of the Stevens' kitchen as though it is fun to be alive. As indeed it is.

Wolfson, endowed high schools, scholars, had a host of highly placed friends in Washington, and used those cold blue eyes to corner bits and chips of the New York Stock Exchange. In Jacksonville, Florida, he came out of an affectionate and poverty-stricken family to fight for control of Montgomery Ward and American Motors.

He was aggressive and powerful, and such men must be brought down like tall oaks crashing in a forest. Wolfson made enemies, and they lived in Washington with their long memories. They waited for years to bag this man, but when they moved, they did it well. There is a sub-section of the Securities Exchange Commission which says that one who owns more than 50 per cent of stock cannot sell more than ten per cent of it in any one year without prior notification to the SEC.

I have asked Wall Street brokers about this matter and they say that this particular section is violated by scores of brokers. No one was prosecuted under it until Louis Wolfson showed up. The indictment was proper, the trail in New York was a hodgepodge of glistening judicial terminology. Judge Edmund Palmieri found Wolfson guilty on the first charge, and then decided not to disqualify himself for the second trial. It may be easy for the judge to keep an open mind at a second trial after having found the defendant guilty in the first — good judges are like that.

Still, Wolfson lost the second case too. The rich man had fat, well-nourished lawyers but their appeals did not appeal to the Court of Appeals. Wolfson lost. His wife, dying of cancer in the beautiful Wolfson home at Miami Beach, tried to sit erect for her husband's sake. The day before the time for sentence in New York, she collapsed.

Louis Wolfson asked Judge Palmieri to postpone the sentencing so that he could be at his wife's side. It could not be done. So Wolfson went to New York to stand before the bar of justice and listen dry-eyed to the desiccated words of the law. While he was in New York, Mrs. Wolfson died.

The prisoner did not crack. He did not weep. I phoned him when he returned to Florida. He said he planned to remain at home until the two younger boys — Gary and Martin — were old enough to fend for themselves without a mother around. Or a father.

There is no right and no wrong to this story. I feel sorry for Wolfson because I think he is a great American.

I am not his apologist; he needs justice, not mercy. He spoke softly: "I was singled out to be indicted, convicted and sentenced to prison in the first case of its kind — not involving fraud — but only a technical violation."

His nephew, John Monsky, is an officer of a television company in which I have an interest. I could never get him to discuss the case. A son, Stephen Wolfson, responds to all questions by saying: "Why don't you go up to Harbor View Farm for a couple of weeks with your family?"

To be a stoic has merit, but suffering in silence never appealed to me. Louis Wolfson earned money in large numbers, but only a few relatives know how much he gave away to the Maxies of the world.

Louis Wolfson will serve his time and be sent home. The government will not break him, because he is unbreakable. He will sit with his young sons and bring them up with a high sense of honor and good citizenship. If I have read Wolfson correctly, when he comes home and the boys embrace him, he will grin and say: "Please don't mention it...."

Ellenville Incumbents In Uncontested Runoff

ELLENVILLE $63.53 to $67.27, an increase of $3.73; and Rochester would change from $66.04 to $69.92, an increase of $3.88.

The above estimate of tax rates would include the funds required for the Ellenville Public Library and Museum.

Propositions to be voted upon will include the approval of the school budget, the proposition supporting the Ellenville Public Library, and a proposition requiring that in all subsequent

The preliminary budget totals $3,050,068, reflecting an increase in expenditures of $185,885. Major increases in the budget are instructional services up $160,112; transportation $16,434; employee benefits $32,537. Debt service shows a decrease of $32,845.

It will be noted that the major increases will be found in the area of instructional services, transportation, and employee benefits. The increase in instructional services is due to changes in salaries as well as the employment of two new elementary teachers added to accommodate increased student population, one special teacher in order to meet the requirements of a law passed by the Legislature during its last session, a music teacher and a part-time art teacher to replace teachers formerly supplied by the Board of Cooperative Educational Services which are no longer available to the district and one teacher in the secondary level in the area of home economics in order to transfer a teacher currently in the home economics department who is trained in the instruction of reading.

The purchase of a carryall to replace a small bus having 120,000 miles on it as well as the replacement of a station wagon having in excess of 70,000 miles represents a portion of the increase in the transportation budget. The remainder of the increase is attributed to salaries of transportation personnel and transportation of emotionally disturbed pupils to their center.

The increase in employee benefits, of course, refers to the school district's contribution to social security, teachers' retirement, and non-teachers' retirement.

District officials have estimated that the tax rate will increase by 5.8 per cent based on current assessments. This would mean that the Wawarsing rate would change from $115.15 to $121.91, an increase of $6.76; Mamakating would change from

Fish Joins 2 Others on Gambling Curb

POUGHKEEPSIE Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr. along with Emanuel Celler, chairman of the judiciary committee and the other Republican members of the committee, today joined to introduce the Illegal Gambling Business Control Act of 1969.

Congressman Fish stated that "many law-abiding Americans who would never consider doing anything illegal swell the coffers of organized crime by participating in the countless variations of illegal gambling sponsored and run by the organized crime syndicates."

"The proposed legislation would end this by making an illegal gambling operation in which five or more persons are involved, and which has operated for more than 30 days or from which the daily 'take' exceeds $2,000, a Federal felony," Congressman Fish said in commenting on the Illegal Gambling Business Control Act of 1969.

"In addition to this the law would make it a federal crime to give or take a bribe to facilitate such an illegal gambling operation, and would permit law enforcement officials to employ wire tapping, subject to existing safeguards and procedures, to obtain evidence of violations of the Act," Congressman Fish said.

Campus School At New Paltz Sets Deadline

NEW PALTZ Applications for admission to the Campus School of the State University College at New Paltz must be submitted to the School Office by May 9.

On May 12 officers of the PTA will select at random names from the list of applicants for the Nursery school and the few openings at each grade level from kindergarten to grade eight.

Parents may obtain the necessary application forms and other information in the school office from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. until May 9. Only those children whose parents live within the boundaries of the New Paltz Central School District are eligible for admission.

Campus School officials point out that according to State University regulations applications filed prior to Jan. 1, 1969, are no longer valid and must be re-submitted.

Notices will be mailed to the parents of children accepted on May 14. A list of children accepted will also be posted on the bulletin board of the Campus School Office.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened higher today in moderately active trading.

Last week's sharp rise may make the list vulnerable to profit taking. But any further hints a peace breakthrough is in the offing in Vietnam could spark renewed demand. Much of the recent upswing followed a Viet Cong statement that it would be willing to hold discussions with "other parties" to help get the Paris peace conference moving again.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI stock market indicator was up 0.41 per cent on 397 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 182 advanced and 77 declined.

Motors were mixed despite a slackening in late April automobile sales. Steels showed scattered strength, as did aircrafts.

United picked up 1/4 in the Aerospace group, but McDonnell Douglas held unchanged.

Police Check City Crashes

KINGSTON Four persons complained of pains Sunday afternoon, after a car in which they were riding was involved in a collision with another vehicle on East Strand at Broadway.

Police reports noted the cars were driven by Will G. Drake, 28, of 34 Tompkins Street, and Willie J. Mills, 42, of 43 Gill Street. The cars were traveling in opposite directions and after the impact one struck the Volanteers of America Building.

Drake complained of back pains. Passengers in his car were George Mason, 26, of 51 Sycamore Street, who also complained of back pains, and Gilbert Henderson, 30, and Gertrude Henderson, also 30, of 2 Post Stret. They both complained of pains of the forehead.

The four were taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment. At 3:45 a.m. Sunday a vehicle operated by Anthony F. Heinrich, 38, of 137 Glen Street, went out of control on West O'Reilly Street, and hit and broke off a fire hydrant, before the truck overturned, police said. Heinrich sustained lacerations of the right arm. He was cited for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

William Bloom, 23, of Rt. 1, Box 379, Ulster Park, escaped injury shortly after 6 p.m. Saturday when the car he was driving skidded on a patch of oil near the Broadway underpass and hit a light pole and a parking meter.

Water District Including Ashokan Reservoir Wins Grand Safety Award

SAFETY PRESENTATION—Present for the grand award of the Greater New York Safety Council, given to Maurice M. B. Feldman, commissioner of water resources—which includes the Ashokan Reservoir—recently were: (L-R) Joseph Carey, safety coordinator; Joseph Boek, safety coordinator; Vincent Tofany, commissioner of the State Motor Vehicle Bureau; James Lenza, safety director, and Arthur Lewis, environment protection assistant for the City of New York.

KINGSTON, N.Y. (AP) — The Upstate Western District of the New York City Department of Water Resources, which includes the Ashokan Reservoir, has won the Grand Award for safety from the Greater New York Safety Council.

The Grand Award is the council's highest award and was presented to Maurice M. Feldman, commissioner of water resources, at a recent convention of the Council at the Statler Hilton Hotel in New York City.

Rate Lowest in State

Joseph Carey, safety coordinator at Ashokan Reservoir told The Freeman that there are 39 commercial vehicles and 23 tractors based at the reservoir. The accident rate was the lowest in the state.

The regional convention has been held for the last 39 years and is co-sponsored by the New York Safety Council and 70 to 80 other organizations including such City agencies as the E.P.A. It covers virtually every phase of safety: accident prevention in the home and school, recreational and occupational safety, loss prevention, and traffic safety. Accident records are kept by the participating groups, and annual awards are given in the various safety categories. Winners of the Inter-Fleet Accident Reduction Contest, held for the ninth year, showed a significant decrease over the previous year in accident rate.

while operating or experts as well as the general public, visit the exposition every year. Nearly 10,000 guests, safety year.

Curb Busing Plan For Integration

By BRUCE B. DETLEFSEN
AP Education Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The use of busing plans to achieve school integration is crawling toward a dead end in New York State.

Advocates of busing as a way to correct racial imbalance in the classroom had pinned their hopes on defeating two measures in the 1969 legislature.

The proposals were designed to prohibit the state education commissioner and appointing school boards from assigning pupils to public schools on the basis of such factors as race and color.

passed and sent to Gov. Rockefeller.

It was not certain for several weeks whether the governor would sign or veto the bill, since he had indicated disapproval of its intent.

Rockefeller's office announced Friday night, however, that he had signed the bill.

It will take effect next Sept. 1, in time for the 1969-70 school year.

Ironically, just seven days before the announcement, James E. Allen Jr., holding his last news conference as state education commissioner, said he hoped Rockefeller would not sign the bill.

"It would be a great mistake," Allen maintained. Allen became U.S. education commissioner last week.

In 1963, Allen ordered local school districts to make plans to erase racial imbalance. Negro children, he said then, have a right to attend schools with a cross-section of other groups, even if this meant transferring them outside their own neighborhoods.

During Assembly debate on the busing bill this year, Republican George Van Cott of Mount Vernon, one of the cities where Allen had directed busing, summed up his argument by saying:

"I plead with you to help curb the powers of Commissioner Allen and help pass this bill."

Van Cott also cited figures showing that thousands of whites were moving out of Mount Vernon.

Final legislative action on the bill came in the Senate several weeks later.

Sen. Norman F. Lent, R-Lynbrook, sponsored the bill and a proposed constitutional amendment containing similar provisions.

Lent argued that the "busing craze" of the last decade had become self-defeating, by chasing middle-income families from cities to the suburbs.

Opposition to the measure came mainly from Democrats. But Republican Sen. D. Clinton Dominick of Newburgh joined with them in the debate and voting.

"They are bills aimed at keeping the blacks in the ghetto," Dominick argued.

"White school boards under pressure from white majorities aren't going to order integration," he added. "It took the commissioner to order them to bring it about."

Five Per Cent Cut in Aid To Cost Saugerties $4,800

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

The five per cent cut in state aid is expected to create a deficit in Town of Saugerties budget of $4,800, according to the quarterly aid check recently received by the township.

The quarterly state aid check received last month was $1,200 less than anticipated.

To meet the deficit Town Supervisor A. Michael Schovel filed a list of recommendations at the Thursday night Town Board meeting.

Schovel said there are two ways to meet the emergency, be cut with new basketball courts to be completed and blacktopping contracted at a later date.

The Highway Department and Glasco Water District would pay a proportionate share into the town treasury for workmen's compensation.

Use of school buildings where feasible for voting places, thus cutting the cost of renting polling places in various parts of the town.

City Architect on Olana Board; Fulfills Lifelong Fascination

By JEAN F. DOLAN

KINGSTON

A lifelong fascination with exotic Olana culminated for Kingston architect George V. Hutton Jr. this past week with his appointment as a trustee of the Hudson mansion's board.

Discussing the announcement of his selection by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, Hutton recalled how he and his brother, captured by the view of the Morish and Italian structure jutting above the landscape at the western end of the Rip Van Winkle Bridge, felt impelled to explore. In their youth the two boys made some clandestine visits to the fabled home of 19th century Hudson River School artist, Frederick Church. Requests for front door admittance made to the Church heirs fell on deaf ears and it was not until Hutton became vitally involved in arousing general interest and money to preserve the historic site some four years ago that he got to the interior which reflected the blended taste of the oft viewed exterior.

In due course through the efforts of the Olana Preservation Committee the 200-room "castle" on the Hudson became a National Historic Landmark open to the public and preserved for all to view.

Outstanding View
And the view is the thing according to Architect Hutton who admires the taste of the visually-oriented artist Church. As an artist Church planned his river mansion with an eye to the outdoor panorama. Throughout the complex he provided vistas at all the right locations, framing the magnificent Hudson landscape while carrying out the exotic influence of the near East inside and out.

Hutton who has served on the Historic Preservation Commission for the city of Kingston noted that the sort of conscience which brought about the preservation of Olana applies here too as more and more thought is turned toward the architectural past as well as present.

He does not feel that the historic past need be rejected for the new but does advocate adaption of existing structures for modern uses.

An excellent case in point is his office at 14 Pearl Street. The top floor of a lovely brick town house of another era has been converted into modern, airy, well-lighted facilities suited for an architect's special needs. The Mansard roof line makes for indoor space above while expanded dormers provide needed light for drawing board and budding lemon tree.

Other Concerns

Hutton is much concerned with vistas not only at Olana and in the office but also as the word applies to the out-of-doors in general. The Catskills and the Adirondacks are favorite stamping grounds come summer when kids and came cut through stream and lake.

Educational views are another concern of the Kingston native who is a graduate of Williams College and Yale School of Architecture. He serves as president of the board of trustees of the new Ulster Academy and was one of the founders of the independent secondary school which came into living being last fall.

Asked about his trusteeship with Olana, Hutton said he felt he had been chosen for past activities in the preservation efforts and for his architectural background which might serve the board at this stage of the development of the site. He hopes to continue his association with Olana "for as long as the possible."

Syracuse Doctor is Main Speaker For UCCC Commencement June 8

Dr. Stephen K. Bailey, chairman of the Policy Institute of Syracuse University, has been named as principal speaker for commencement exercises at Ulster County Community College here on June 8, the college said.

The ceremony is scheduled to be held outdoors at the UCCC Stone Ridge campus and in case of rain will be held in the Rondout Valley Central Schools' gymnasium, said Richard J. Gelston, UCCC graduation committee chairman.

Dr. Bailey is also Maxwell Professor of Political Science at Syracuse University's Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs.

A Rhodes Scholar from 1937 to 1939, Dr. Bailey received both a Bachelor and Master of Arts

'Musical Bridge' Cited as Potential Safety Hazard

SUPERVISOR HARKIN EXAMINES A LOOSE PLANK

By BRUCE KAUFMAN

NAPANOCH
Residents of the hamlet of Napanoch call the Honk Falls Bridge on Route 55 "the musical bridge" because it shakes, rattles and rolls, whenever a car passes over it.

However, these same residents also feel that the one-lane, bridge structure, which spans the Rondout creek, just south of Honk Lake, is also a potential safety hazard and should be either renovated or replaced.

Wawarsing Town Supervisor, Frank Harkin agrees. Recently he sent a letter to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller requesting that action be taken by the state to counteract "the dangers inherent in travelling over the antiquated structure."

He further states in his letter that "in light of the dangers involved in its present condition and considering the power of the State of New York under its statutory authority of eminent domain, it is difficult for us to conceive that this reconstruction should be delayed any further."

In Need of Repair

Harkin says that the bridge, which to his knowledge is the only state structure in the township of Wawarsing, is very much in need of repair.

The guard railings on the 75-year-old span are badly bent and the construction is generally faulty. Moreover, the bridge roadway is constructed of old wooden planks, which often become dislodged.

Residents of the area note that frequently motorists driving over the bridge, must get out of their cars and re-set the planks, before proceeding to the other side.

Harkin says that the town of Wawarsing first brought the matter to the State's attention in 1966, but very little headway has been made since that time.

Need Right of Way Grant

He says that the Town recently received a correspondence from the State District Engineer, M. N. Sinacori, indicating that reconstruction of the bridge cannot be started until "right of way" is granted by the Rondout Paper Mill, which is situated on a site adjacent to the bridge.

The correspondence also noted that the state is currently trying to negotiate a satisfactory arrangement regarding the replacement of facilities with the papermill.

Meanwhile, the bridge continues to rattle and there appears to be very little that the residents of Napanoch or the Town of Wawarsing can do about it.

Harkin says that he would not know where to go if the state does not deal with the problem.

Villages Seek New Policemen

Open competitive examination for police patrolmen for the villages of Ellenville, New Paltz and Saugerties have been announced by the Ulster County Civil Service Commission.

The eligible list established as a result of the June 21 examination at the county office building will be used to fill police patrolman vacancies as they occur in all Ulster County villages where the applicants meet the requirements for the positions.

The last date for filing applications with the Ulster County Civil Service Commission, box 174, Kingston is May 21.

At present five vacancies exist in Ellenville with a starting salary of $5,500.

In New Paltz there are two vacancies and the starting salary is $5,500. In Saugerties where four vacancies exist, the starting salary is $4,600.

Honor School Safety Patrolman

Thomas Stiesman, who serves on the School Safety Patrol at George Washington School was presented with the Automobile Club of New York's Distinguished Service Medal by Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo in a City Hall ceremony today.

The medal was awarded to Thomas for his "exceptional alertness and attention to duty" in safeguarding fellow students. Participating in the ceremony was Paul Petrillo, Director of Traffic Engineering and Safety for the Automobile Club. The ceremony is part of a statewide observance of School Safety Patrol Week, which has been proclaimed from May 4-10 by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The patrols were first organized in this area in 1926 by the Automobile Club. Since then, they have helped cut traffic fatalities to school-age children in the state by 53.9 per cent, despite a marked increase in motor vehicle registration.

There are more than 55,000 patrol members in New York State.

Maverick's hot! Any questions?

Measure it any way you like. By the crowds. The news stories. The sales. Few cars have caused a sensation like Maverick or broken so many records. Every day more and more people are asking questions about it. Here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?

A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?

A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?

A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?

A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls . . . important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?

A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?

A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?

A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?

A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5½ feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?

A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?

A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?

A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating costs.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?

A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points . . . plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?

A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact's—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight . . . power . . . stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?

A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's light, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?

A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is . . . right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's . . . Fairlanes . . . Mustangs and Falcons.

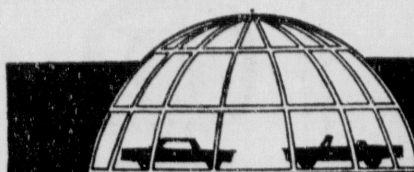

You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's . . . the place you've got to go to see what's going on.

For an authentic 1/25 scale model of the new Ford Maverick, send $1.00 to Maverick, P.O. Box 5397, Department , Detroit, Michigan 48211. (Offer ends July 31, 1969.)

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
"And Guest" not Proper on Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: We have read recently that in addressing wedding invitations it is improper to write on the inside envelope, "Miss Smith and Guest." Instead it should read, "Miss Smith." Once the invitations are mailed and received it is up to the bride to call and inform the singles invited that they are welcome to bring a guest. It seems like an overload of work, especially when most of the singles invited would think we had simply forgotten to write "and Guest."

I have also noticed that in our area we never receive an invitation that does not include "and Guest." I am at odds with my mom on this technicality and would like to know what is your opinion.

— Peggy
DEAR PEGGY: If it is customarily done in your area, no one will criticize you for writing "and Guest" on your inner envelopes. However, in most of the country it is not correct since a wedding is supposed to be so intimate and personal an occasion that every guest is known by name to the bride and groom. The proper procedure is to call the singles before you mail the invitations, tell them you would like them to bring a guest and to let you know their friend's name so that you may write it on the inner envelope, or send a separate invitation.

Ushers were Frank Dispensa, Wappingers Falls, cousin of the bride; Albert Bono, Highland, brother of the bridegroom; John and Thomas Attard of Highland and New York, respectively, uncles of the bride. Salvatore Dispensa, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Folks:

Anyone who has a hungry teenager in the family will appreciate this time-saver.

You know those little Vienna sausages that come in a can? Well, try just ripping off the top, pouring out the juice and eating it right out of the can with a fork!

My teenage daughter likes to pour dripping mustard over hers. I like mine plain or maybe with a little catsup.

Give 'em a few crackers and they've got it made. Whoopee, no dishes to wash.

..... Heloise
P.S. Why is that first sausage so hard to get out of that can? That's the way I discovered this snack treat.

how they have risen and just what they're doing. Heloise

Dear Heloise:

This morning I was sitting at my kitchen table getting ready to mend a pair of my daughter's stretch pants. The stitching had pulled out from part of the waistband and the band were elastic. I had to stretch it while sewing it by hand.

So I opened my kitchen table where the leaves are inserted, slipped in the waistband and closed it.

There I had by own little "sewing vise" which left me with both hands free to sew.

Mrs. Dorothy Anderson
Oh, Dorothy, how we thank you for this hint.

With all the stretch clothes today, more and more of us have mending that needs to be stretched while sewing. And now you have given us the answer. ....

Dear Heloise:

I keep a roll of double sticky tape (sticky on both sides) around the house because I find it so very useful.

Works great on the back of stamps that have lost their glue. It also holds my First-Aid chart on the inside of my medicine cabinet door, bows on packages, and pictures in albums.

Lillian Wilkinson

Dear Heloise:

When putting a zipper in a curve or bias seam, I clip the cloth edge of my zipper with my pinking scissors and it sews right in with no puckering at all.

Margaret Ambler

Dear Heloise:

Here's a tip for anyone who is slightly spray-paint happy.

When you have to paint light switch plates, puts the screws through a shirt cardboard and spray away.

It won't clog the threads of the screws and you don't end up with painted fingers. And the result is screws to match the plate itself.

Mrs. C. Henry Flemer

Dear Folks:

You know those glass pie plates? Well, I just discovered that most of them will fit on top of nearly any pot or pan we cook dumplings in!

Removing the lid to test the dumplings (and if you use the same recipe ten straight times it never comes out the same) is what causes them to "fall" and get soggy.

If you use that glass pie plate as a lid you can SEE

CELEBRATE SPRING WITH ASPARAGUS

Most of us would like to bring Spring's freshness right indoors to our table, and here's a start — cooking with fresh asparagus, says Louise K. Breitung, Extension Home Economist.

Careful preparation and special cooking techniques are the keys to preserving the freshness in cooked asparagus. The reward will be asparagus that has retained its' bright green color, fresh flavor, and firm but tender stalks and tips.

Asparagus presents a special cooking challenge because of the contrast in texture between the less tender stems and the very tender tips. By using the following technique, the stem portion of the spears will cook fully without the tips becoming mushy and overcooked. Begin by thoroughly washing the spears loosely together into a bundle (about 1 pound per bundle). Place the bundle upright in the bottom of a double broiler or a deep saucepan; add salt and enough boiling water to cover the stems. Boil the asparagus rapidly without a cover until it is almost tender. Then cover the pan with a rounded lid or the top of the double boiler and allow the tips to steam for the final few minutes.

Asparagus is distinctive and elegant served by itself, but if desired, a topping or sauce may be served to further enhance its' flavor. Traditional asparagus accompaniments range from Hollandaise sauce to a light topping of toasted almonds or combinations such as suggested below.

POLONAISE TOPPING

Yield: Topping for 1 pound fresh asparagus; 4 servings

Pan: 1 small sauce pan; 8-inch flat pan

2 tablespoons butter

1/4 cup dry bread crumbs

2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley

1 hard-cooked egg, finely chopped

1/4 cup mayonnaise

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 pound asparagus, cooked

1. Melt the butter and heat until lightly browned. Add the bread crumbs and stir until heated. Then gently toss in the chopped parsley and egg.

2. In a flat pan combined the mayonnaise, lemon juice, and salt. Roll the cooked, drained asparagus in this mixture until the spears are completely coated. Place them on a warm platter.

3. Sprinkle the crumb mixture over the tips of the spears. Serve immediately.

Creamy Cheese Sauce

Yield: Sauce for 1 pound asparagus; 4 servings

Pan: 1 quart saucepan

2 tablespoons butter

1 1/2 tablespoons chopped green onion

1/4 teaspoon curry powder

1/4 teaspoon salt

2 1/2 tablespoons flour

1 cup milk

3 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese

1. Melt the butter and add the chopped onion, curry powder, and salt; cook over low heat for 3 to 4 minutes.

2. Stir in the flour.

3. Slowly add the milk and cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture boils and thickens.

4. Stir the parmesan cheese into this cream sauce. Serve or pass the sauce with hot, cooked asparagus.

Helpful Hints

ADD ANCHOVY PASTE

Flavor your fish dishes with a sauce to which a little anchovy paste has been added.

DE - LINTER

Masking tape is a good delinter and is a very fast way to do the job. Just press it on the garment.

DON'T WASH MEAT

Never wash meat. Merely wipe it off with a damp cloth. Washing it will dull the edge of its fine flavor.

TO KEEP CHOPS

Chops will keep better in the refrigerator if you turn them every day and put them on a fresh plate.

WRAP CHEESE

Cheese will keep indefinitely in a fine state if you wrap it with a cloth wrung out of vinegar.

MEAT COATING

If you want that meat-coating of egg and fine crumbs to stick extra well, chill the meat after coating and before cooking.

LWV Announced Policy

By CHARLOTTE MOULTON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The League of Women Voters which for half a century has helped sway American public thinking, is on the verge of announcing its stand on U.S. policy on Red China.

The action to be made public Sunday is no spur of the moment thing based on women's intuition. It is the result of a three-year canvass of grass roots thinking among the local chapters of the league and its 15,000 members.

Since its founding 50 years ago, the league has pursued the same course of deliberate formulation in taking a stand on controversial and complex issues. And as in the past, the China recommendation will be presented as a nonpartisan expression of the thinking of the women members.

The China recommendation posed these questions:

Is isolation of Communist China the best policy? If not, what sort of cultural and diplomatic relations with the Peking regime are desirable?

What about a "two China" policy acknowledging both Red China and Nationalist China established in Taiwan under Chiang Kai Shek? How could a "two China" set-up be dealt within the United Nations?

Mrs. Bruce B. Benson of Amherst, Mass., the sprightly articulate president of the league, explained the decision-making process in an interview with UPI.

The choice of subjects for study and possible recommendation originate primarily with the local chapters. The chapters report back to headquarters in a year or so as to what ideas are emerging from discussions and other member programs.

The national board then formulates questions to bring out members' thinking more precisely. Eventually reports from hundreds of local boards are received at Washington headquarters, classified by size of unit, geography and the like and formulated into a policy adopted by the national board.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST'S CASTLE at San Simeon, Calif. will be included in Part Two of a slide show at Artercraft Gallery, 604 Broadway, Kingston, on Friday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m. The slides will be presented by Warren and Ruth VanKleeck of Kingston. The public is welcome to attend.

"YOU'RE KIDDING! 10 LESSONS — $10?"

"That's Right . . . It's Our 56th Anniversary Special!!"

"WHY ARE YOU MAKING THIS UNUSUAL OFFER?"

"It's Arthur Murray's Anniversary Gift to you. We want you to see for yourself how quickly and easily you can learn to become a good dancer. We guarantee you'll be dancing after just one lesson."

"YOU'RE KIDDING . . . ISN'T THERE SOME OTHER REASON?"

"Why . . . ah . . . well, now that you mention it, there is. Our hope is that many of the persons who enroll in this Anniversary Special will have so much fun and will learn so easily and so quickly that they will want to tell their friends about us and perhaps take a lesson or two more themselves."

"WHAT ARE YOUR REGULAR PRICES?"

"Well, all you can enroll on to begin with is the $10 course. Afterwards, our regular prices are only about $4.00 to $5.00 a lesson. But no one is obligated to go further than his $10 course."

"WHY SHOULD I WANT TO TAKE DANCING LESSONS?"

"Maybe you would like to gain more confidence; improve your personality; for fun and relaxation; exercise; to lose weight; possibly for business or social reasons; to meet new friends; or to become more popular. Any one of these would be an excellent reason."

"MAYBE I'M TOO OLD?"

"That's what's so wonderful about dancing. You're never too old. We do have many young students but the larger majority of our students are in their middle years and many even beyond. Besides, dancing helps keep one looking and feeling younger."

"WHERE COULD I GO DANCING BY MYSELF?"

"Every Friday night there is an Arthur Murray party. You have the opportunity of meeting many new friends your own age and of using your dancing right away in a real fun atmosphere. You'll have the time of your life . . . even if you've never danced before. By the way, you can also use the studio to practice."

"YOU'VE GOT TO BE KIDDING! WHAT CAN I LEARN?"

"Any of the popular dances of your choice—Fox Trot, Waltz, Rumba, Swing, Cha-Cha, Tango, Merengue, Samba — even the latest Discotheque dances."

"YOU'RE KIDDING, COULDN'T I LEARN ALL OF THOSE?"

"You're right! You couldn't learn all of them. But the average person can learn the basic steps in from 3-6 dances in that time — depending on his ability. Mind you . . . you won't look like Arthur or Kathryn Murray — or even Fred Astaire for that matter . . . Oops!"

"SUPPOSING, JUST SUPPOSING, I'M NOT SATISFIED AT THE END OF MY LESSONS?"

"Well, just supposing we give you your money back—all $10. How does that sound to you?"

"YOU'RE KIDDING!"
"Try us and see!"

"WHAT DO I HAVE TO DO?"

"Just call now and make an appointment or drop in to see us. Of course there's no hurry — you could wait 'till next year."

"SAY-Y! I DON'T EVEN KNOW YOUR NAME!"

"You're kidding!"

Oliver's 6 Hits Tie Record

By United Press International

Bob Oliver, a 26-year old rookie outfielder, equalled the modern major league record Sunday when he hit four singles, a double and a homer in six at bats to lead the Kansas City Royals to a 15-1 romp over the California Angels.

The 6-foot, 3-inch, 205-pound right-handed hitter who played for Denver in the Pacific Coast League last season, is the first American League to go 6-for-6 in a game since Floyd Robinson in 1962 and one of 37 players who have accomplished the feat since 1900.

Wilbert Robinson of Baltimore went 7-for-7 in a game in 1892.

Oliver, a .297-hitter for Denver last season, originally was credited with five hits in six at bats but the official scorer changed his call on one play after consulting with Umpire Larry Napp after the game.

Oliver, Joe Foy and Lou Piniella each hit a two-run homer as the Royals pounded out 19 hits behind the four-hit pitching of Roger Nelson. The barrage began against Clyde Wright and continued against five relief pitchers as the expansion Royals set numerous club hitting marks.

The Baltimore Orioles swept the New York Yankees 5-3 and 14-2, winning the first game with a five-run rally in the sixth inning and taping three pitchers for 14 hits in the second game. Dave Johnson's two-run double was the key blow of the Orioles' rally in the opener as Dave McNally received credit for his fifth straight triumph.

Andy Etchebarren drove in five runs with a homer, triple, infield out and sacrifice fly and Paul Blair knocked in four in the second game as the Orioles stretched the Yankees' losing streak to seven games. Jim Hardin pitched a seven-hitter for his first victory.

Eddie Brinkman's seventh-inning single drove in the tie-breaking run and enabled the Washington Senators to beat the Cleveland Indians 4-3 for their fifth straight win. Sixth-inning homers by Frank Howard and Mike Epstein tied the score. Dennis Higgins, who shut out the Indians during the last 3-2-3 innings, was the winner and Jack Hamilton the loser.

Rico Petrocelli hit a two-run homer off Don McMahon with one on and one out in the 11th inning giving the Boston Red Sox a 4-2 win and a three-game sweep of their series with the Detroit Tigers. The Red Sox had tied the score in the ninth on run-scoring single by Dick Schofield. Jim Northrup drove in both Detroit runs with a triple.

Pinch-hitter Graig Nettles homered in the eighth inning to over the Chicago White Sox, Joeststraight victory. tie the score and Cesar TovarGrzenda and Ron Perranoski Pitcher John Odom drove in Wayne Comer and Don Mincher s'ingled across the winning runheld the White Sox hitless for six runs with a homer and acarried the Seattle Pilots to a 6-1 in the eighth inning in the last 2 1-3 innings as the Oakland Athletics 4 win in the first game of the Minnesota Twins' 4-3 decisionTwins scored their eighthscored on 11-7 victory after doubleheader.

By Associated Press

Tony Cloninger came back. Roy Face came back. Even Rich Allen came back.

But even though Allen was $1,000 poorer when he came back to the Philadelphia line-up, he wasn't minus any of his hitting prowess.

The controversial slugger, who was fined $1,000 for missing the previous two games without permission, drove in two runs as the Phillies whipped sagging St. Louis 5-2 Sunday.

Cloninger, meanwhile, bounced back in Cincinnati's second-game, 12-0 decision over San Diego, pitching a masterful two-hitter just about 24 hours after he failed to get a Padre out in the first inning. The Reds also won the opener 3-2.

Face, 41-year-old veteran who was out of work last month until Montreal took a chance on him, relieved for the fourth time in the past week and gained his second victory against no defeats in the Expos' 6-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

In other National League games, Atlanta downed Los Angeles 4-1, Houston tripped San Francisco 3-1 and the New York Mets took the Chicago Cubs twice by 3-2 scores.

Allen's latest troubles started Friday when he missed two planes from Philadelphia to St. Louis and thus the Phillies' night game with the Cardinals. He didn't make it in time for Saturday's game either, showing up an hour after it started.

He was there and in the line-up for Sunday's contest, though, and responded by driving in runs with a double in the third inning and a sacrifice fly in the sixth as the Phillies completed a sweep of the three-game series.

"We had a great weekend, we had beautiful weather, we won three games and Richie Allen came back and had a great day," beamed Phils Manager Bob Skinner, carefully skirting any mention of the AWOL incident.

Cloninger started for Cincinnati against San Diego Saturday but was battered for five runs in the first inning. However, Manager Dave Bristol came back with the right hander in the second game of throw by Wes Parker. The first Sunday's doubleheader, and Cloninger responded by holding the Padres hitless after the second inning.

The pitcher also contributed a homer and a single to the Reds' 11-hit attack as he picked up his first victory against four losses. The Reds won the opener behind run-scoring hits by Tommy Helms in the fourth and Johnny Bench in the sixth.

In Montreal, Face came in to pitch in the eighth inning, shut off a Pirate rally and the held his former team in the ninth after the Expos rallied for three runs in the last of the eighth.

John Boccabella doubled home two runs and scored the third on a throwing error by catcher Manny Sanguillen.

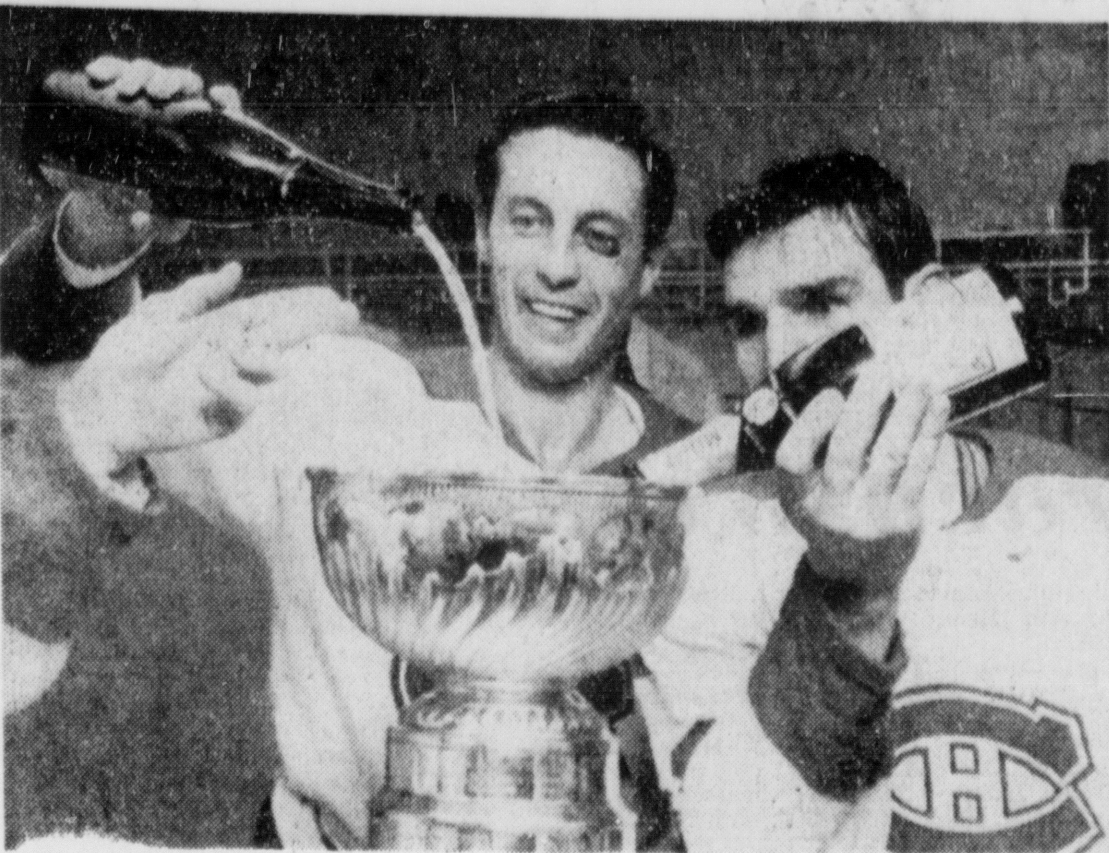

Atlanta completed a sweep of its three-game series with Los home runs by Tommy Harper, and baseman tossed away a relay throw, enabling two Braves to score in the fourth.

Houston pulled off a National League record seven double plays in defeating Juan Marichal and San Francisco. Doug Rader scored two of the Astros' three runs after tripling and doubling.

Ron Swoboda drove in the winning run in the opener and scored the winner in the nightcap as the Mets surprised the high-flying Cubs.

In the opener, Swoboda's sacrifice fly capped a two-run rally that put New York ahead to stay. In the second game, Swoboda raked home from second on Dick Selma's wild pitch in the seventh. Tom Seaver and Tug McGraw each scattered nine hits in halting Chicago.

THEIR CUP RUNNETH OVER — Montreal Canadiens' Jean Beliveau (LL) and John Ferguson pour champagne into the Stanley Cup after defeating the St. Louis Blues 2-1 Sunday in St. Louis. The Canadiens won the Cup finals in four straight games. (UPI TELE-PTO).

Canadiens Sweep Stanley Cup

Champagne and Sleep Aftermath of Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Claude Ruel can get some sleep now. The Montreal Canadiens can sip champagne and enjoy their money.

The St. Louis Blues can console themselves in Florida while the Canadiens sweep the Stanley Cup finals in four games. It was the 16th time the Canadiens took possession.

St. Louis has yet to beat Montreal in 17 games over two seasons. John Ferguson scored the winning goal in the third period less than four minutes after Ted Harris tied the game 1-1. The Blues took a 1-0 lead, the first they led in the finals, on Terry Gray's second-period goal.

Ruel indicated winning the Stanley Cup was anticlimactic for him, not because he didn't think much of the Blues.

"It's a personal victory for me," the Canadiens' coach said. "No one knows what I went through all year. I was always worried and I've been having trouble sleeping all year. To finish first was better for me than to win the Stanley Cup."

Bowman had to be content with what he considered a moral victory. The Blues had been clearly outclassed in the first three games, but showed in the last game they could give the Canadiens trouble.

"You know it's too late now, but I'll know how to play them next time," Bowman said. The Blues leave Wednesday for a one-day vacation at the Florida motel of club owner Sidney Salomon Jr. But it wasn't until Sunday that Bowman or any of the Blues felt like going.

Hinson-Who He? Orleans Winner

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Folks back in Georgia's Coffee County didn't think Larry Hinson would ever amount to much on the pro golf tour. But look at him today.

The 24-year-old Hinson, on the tour exactly a year, beat spectacled Frank Beard on the third hole of sudden death Sunday to capture the $20,000 first prize in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

He had finished 72 holes over the lush Lakewood Country Club course with 275s—12 under par.

"Everyone back home just thought I'd never make it because I didn't make good in my studies—a C average going through college—and they said, 'He's not bright and he can't knock the ball far enough and his handicap will probably keep him out,'" said Hinson.

Hinson's handicap is a left arm weakened by a bout with polio when he was five years old. But he has proven he can play with the best.

Hinson, who shot a closing round 67, started the final round five strokes behind Beard and Dave Hill.

Beard, who finished regulation play Sunday with a 72, earned $11,200.

THE CHAMP — Undeafated Majestic Prince won the 9th running of the Kentucky Derby by a neck over Arts and Letters Saturday at Churchill Downs. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Longden Thinks 'Prince' Can Take Triple Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky (UPI)—Will Kentucky Derby champion Majestic Prince become the turf's first triple crown champion in 21 years?

Trainer Johnny Longden, shipping Majestic Prince today north for the Preakness at Pimlico May 17, hints that it could be so. And, after the big $250,000 gamble the little man won in the derby, folks better pay attention.

"He's as good as Count Fleet," declared Longden after Saturday's Derby triumph by Majestic Prince by a neck over Arts and Letters and another half-length over Dike.

That's pretty close to heresy for there are lots of racing people who rate Count Fleet the greatest of them all. But Longden is in a mighty good position to know—he rode Count Fleet to those triple crown wins in the Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes back in 1942.

Since then, only Assault in 1946 and Citation in 1948 have been able to string together all three of the classic races for three-year-olds.

Arts and Letters, Dike, and the fifth-place Top Knight, the Derby second choice who folded, all shipped from Churchill Downs to New York Sunday and are expected to hook up with Majestic Prince again in the Preakness.

There's a chance that Cain Hoy Stable's Ack Ack, who set a Churchill Downs record for one mile in winning the Derby Trial here last Tuesday, may join the "Big Four" for the May 10 date first in the Withers Mile in New York—provided New York's racing boycott is ended by May 10.

The four other starters in the Derby—fourth place Traffic Mark and also-ran Ocean Roar, Fleet Allied and Rae Jet—have had all they want of the "big four."

UCCC Routs Kingsborough

KINGSTON UCCC Community tilters exploded for seven runs in the third inning and went on to trounce Kingsborough Community of New York, 12-2 in a non-league game Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

Charlie Moore pitched a 5-hitter and triggered the big rally with a two run homer, as Coach Al DiBernardo's Senators climbed over the 500 mark with their fifth win in nine starts.

Moore evened his pitching record at 2-2 and the homer was his first of the season.

UCCC greeted the Kingsborough starter — Al Satz with two runs in the first inning, Mike Derrenbacher singled one out and scored on Mike Patrick's triple to deep right center. Moore walked and with runners on first and third and two out UCCC tried a delay double steal and Satz balked to force in the second run.

Patrick led off in the third with a walk and Moore slammed a home run to deep left field to put the Senators ahead, 4-0.

Larry Trippodo kept the rally going with a single. After Lou Perry lined to deep left, Charlie Lay walked and Bill Boines singled scoring Trippodo. Gary Abatelli walked loading the bases.

Ron Valle hit an infield grounder but Lay beat the throw to the plate and the bases were still loaded. But not for long. On the first pitch, Derrenbacher cleared them with a long double to right center.

Satz was relieved by Joe Castiglia at this point and held the Senators scoreless until the eighth they added three cheapies in the eighth inning.

A walk to Patrick, Trippodo's single, a fielder's choice and Perry's long fly were the ingredients.

Boines emerged from a protracted slump for UCCC with four singles in five trips. Derrenbacher knocked in three runs with his double and single and Trippodo stroked two singles among Ulster's 10 hits.

Moore struck out nine and walked four and gave up single tallies in the sixth and ninth, one unearned.

Ulster plays at Dutchess today.

Beacon Blanks Saugerties, 6-0

SAUGERTIES Joe DeMarco pitched a fine three-hitter to lead Beacon High to a 6-0 victory over Saugerties High in a DCSL contest here Saturday.

We're at the halfway mark in our schedule and under the 500 mark at the same time, was Coach Pete Kramer's reaction to the Sawyer loss, the 6th in 10 outings overall.

DeMarco's assortment of curves and fast balls limited Saugerties to singles by Gary Silinovich, the starting pitcher, Frank Maigieri and Bruce Wroless, who relieved Silinovich with one out in the sixth inning. He fanned seven and walked two.

Beacon collected nine hits off Silinovich and Wroless, including a 400-foot homer over the left field fence by first baseman Adams in the sixth inning.

The Dutchess tossers led 2-1 at the end of three innings, then rallied for three more in the fifth and Adams' solo in the sixth.

Coach Kramer was impressed by Adams' shot. "It was quite a blast," he said.

Kickers Lose Lead

MORGAN HILL The Kingston Sport Club Kickers' chances of winning the Premier Division pennant in the German-American Soccer Association are steadily deteriorating.

The Kickers dropped their second straight game, 3-0, to the Brooklyn Football Club here Sunday, dropping them out of the league lead for the first time in several weeks.

Hoboken squeezed by Passaic, last week's upset winner over Kingston, 1-0, Sunday to move into first place with 25 points. Kingston is second with 24 points but faces rough road tests the next two Sundays at Haledon and Austria.

Peter Cornelius, Brooklyn's outside left, drilled two goals for the visitors—one at the 44-minute mark to give them a 1-0 halftime lead. The second came at 65 minutes. Joe Siegmund closed out the Brooklyn scoring with a goal at 79 minutes.

"We had many scoring opportunities but couldn't cash in," said Coach Bob Graves. "On three occasions—twice on shots by Jimmy Reinhardt—the ball bounced off the goal posts."

"We're hurting for personnel," Graves remarked as he viewed the long range pennant prospects which once seemed so bright but are now shrouded in uncertainty.

"It looks like our captain, Winnie Soddemann, is out for the rest of the season (4 game)," said Graves. "On top of that, Reiner Schwebel, one of our best players has been suspended for four games for kicking an opponent in the Passaic contest."

Abbreviations Don't Bother Senor Lopez

By United Press International Marelino Lopez doesn't believe in abbreviations. As far as he's concerned his seven-inning masterpiece Sunday still is a full fledged no-hitter.

Stroudburgh Sweeps SU Hawks In Tennis, 9-0

NEW PALTZ East Stroudsburgh's (Pa.) powerful tennis squad blanked New Paltz State 9-0 here Saturday without the loss of a set.

The Keystone State racquetters swept six singles and three doubles to push their seasonal mark to 12 wins and 6 losses. They are 8-1 against northern competition, losing only to Army. The bulk of their defeats were sustained during a spring southern tour.

Coach Bob Durkin's Hawks are now 1-3 on the season. They travel to Oneonta Tuesday and then compete in the State University (SUNYAC) championships this weekend.

Best match of the day was the bristling doubles duel between Stroudsburgh's Neil Curtis and Vince McHugh and State's Bob Heller and Rich Griffin.

The summaries:
(SINGLES)
1. Neil Curtis (S) over Bob Heller, 6-1, 6-1; 2. Vince McHugh (S) over Rich Griffin, 6-3, 6-1; 3. Townsend Gilbert (S) over Mark Chalfin, 6-1, 6-0.
4. Dave Kozlowski (S) over Steve Bill, 6-1, 8-6; 5. Mark Heller (S) over Steve Darnowsky, 6-3, 6-0; 6. Dan Gobeo (S) over Chris Tomasino, 6-1, 6-0.
(DOUBLES)
1. Curtis-McHugh (S) over Heller-Griffin, 7-5, 6-4; 2. Gilbert-Gobeo (S) over Chalfin-Tomasino, 6-1, 6-0; 3. Rim Becker-M. Heller (S) over Bull-Darnowsky, 6-1, 6-2.

Dear Abby

Truth About Dope

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: This writer is an ex-policewoman and knows that what you printed about marijuana and drugs are the straight facts.

I was recently asked, "What would YOU do if you found your son or daughter using marijuana?" My answer: "I would ask the chief of police to show my child a prisoner who was coming off narcotics," cold turkey.

Secondly: "What would you do if you found your child using LSD?" My reply: "I would ask the judge to sentence my child to the state hospital, not as a patient, but to care for some of the teen-aged patients who are incapable of feeding themselves, or keeping themselves clean, but just lie there, and stare at the ceiling with unseeing eyes."

I believe that a picture is worth 10,000 words. Please accept my congratulations, Abby, on a fine letter. Very sincerely yours,
C. B. TUCSON, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: Your pitch about marijuana and drugs was one-sided. All pot heads don't necessarily wind up on the heavier stuff. I know something about this as I have been in the drug trade for a number of years, but I have never been an addict, and wouldn't touch it with a 10-foot needle. The idea that dope pushers are lurking around school grounds trying to sell dope to kids is ridiculous. It's not sold that way. It's sold strictly thru contacts. A guy would have to be out of his mind to approach a strange kid. The Feds would be on his neck in 10 minutes.

Abby, if you really want to help kids, tell their PARENTS that kids turn to dope because they've been put down, belittled and ignored. Kids prefer scorn to disapproval and being ignored. Parents who raise their children in a stable environment with love and understanding will never have to worry about drugs. I have seen what it does to people, and I wouldn't wish the habit on my worst enemy. And believe me I have plenty. NO NAME OR TOWN PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: I have had an almost abnormal fear of dope addiction ever since I was 17, and witnessed a display of depravity that will haunt me to my grave.

I saw a 19-year-old kid who needed a fix of dope so desperately, he CARRIED his 17-year-old sister into a room to have sex relations with a man. (She was too sick and weak to walk, so he carried her there.)

After major surgery I laid in agony rather than to take the needle offered to ease my pain. I told them to keep their cove. I'd rather be dead than end up a dope head. I know for a fact that some have become innocently addicted in this manner. God help them.

EUCLID, O.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

TORCHBEARER: (Q.) Bill was going steady with this girl. Suddenly she dropped him.

Ever since, Bill has lived in a dream. Every chance he gets he drives by her house. He knows she is going with other boys, and if there's a car out front he gets very upset. His ex thinks of Bill in the regular way we girls think of exes—only as a friend.

I like Bill as a brother and I just can't stand to see him getting hurt. He's 19 and should know better, but he doesn't. How can I help him get over this dream and come back to reality?—A Reader in Lynn, Mass.

(A.) Bill must be a nice guy who just never had lots of girl friends. He probably thinks this one is the only girl in the world. He is acting like a boy does when he loses his first real girl.

I believe you like Bill more than a sister would. You can help him realize that a successful boy-girl friendship is two-way and takes the interest of BOTH parties.

You must convince him that he has many good qualities and that some day, somewhere, the right girl will be attracted to him.

Any day, if you do your job well and with warmth, he may wake up and see that you are that girl.

ON THE LIPS: (Q.) At what age should a father stop kissing his daughter on the lips? I'm 11 and mine still kisses me on the mouth. It is very embarrassing.

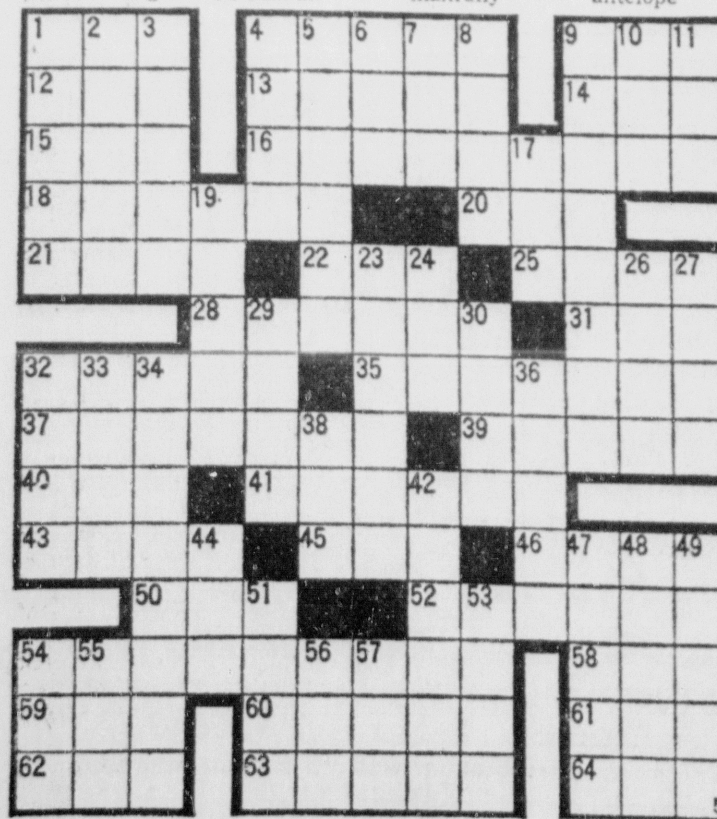

I never thought about it until one morning when Johnny came by for me. He saw my father kissing me. He said this was how his father kissed his mother. Dad always kisses Mom on her forehead or cheek.—J., in Baltimore.

(A.) Some fathers kiss their daughter on the lips as long as one or the other lives. Some never do. It depends on the father and daughter. If you really want your father to stop, talk to him about it. But be sure first. Two people who kiss and stop are never as close together again after they stop. This goes for father-type as well as boyfriend-type kisses.

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

DEAR ABBY: I have had kids look at me with wide, innocent eyes and actually tell me that marijuana does less harm to the body than cigarette smoking! They say it gives them a "high" feeling and there is no hangover.

Well, as a drug addict I can tell you that first I got hooked on that "high" feeling I got from marijuana, then I wanted something even "higher."

BEEN THERE IN NEW MEXICO

DEAR ABBY: No one can tell me that marijuana is not physically harmful. My 18-year-old son admitted he'd been smoking "grass" since he was 14! Today, he can't pour a glass of orange juice without spilling it all over the table. Also, his eyes, which once were clear and bright, are now chronically bloodshot. And he can't sit for 20 minutes without going to the bathroom.

I was also told I was making "too big a thing" out of it. I agree with you, you CAN'T make too big a thing out of it. Sock it to 'em, Abby! HEARTSICK DAD IN L. A. DEAR ABBY: It is ironic that in your hysteric warnings you fail to mention the single legitimate argument against smoking "grass."

It is ILLEGAL, and the user is liable for ridiculously severe penalties, not to mention the record of a felony conviction in most states. Moreover, to knowingly and willfully break a law, any law — even once — makes it so much easier to break other laws in the future. The resulting disrespect for legitimate authority has become all too common of late.

"Think Now, Play Later"

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Jim: "We really jumped the gun when we wrote about Dorothy Hayden's new book, 'Winning Declarer Play,' back in early March."

Oswald: "It was really Dorothy's fault. She sent us preliminary proofs instead of final ones."

Jim: "Now that Harper and Row are finally bringing it out, how about another hand from it?"

Oswald: "Let's take a fairly simple one that is a variation on an old theme. As a matter of fact, Sidney Lenz made almost this identical play with me back in the Lenz-Culbertson match of 1931."

Jim: "I like the title for the hand which is, 'Think Now, Play Later.'"

Oswald: "South jump to five clubs is all-purpose. He doesn't know who can make what but he knows he can't be hurt there and wants to crowd the bidding."

Jim: "Against any lead but a heart, South would try to work out some sort of end play."

against East. The heart lead changes his whole campaign."

Oswald: "The play of the deuce from dummy is rather easy. West might have led from the heart king but East produces it."

Jim: "This is the time for South to think. If he plays his four of hearts right away he can think for hours but he won't make the hand if East and West defend properly. If he thinks first, he will drop his queen of hearts under the king."

Oswald: "Once he gets rid of this card he will have a simple finesse against the jack of hearts. He will go down two if it doesn't work but he should take that extra risk. It does work and he makes his game."

2 ABC-TV 45-Minute Shows

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Two divided into two 45-minute "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." Returning are "Land of the weekly 45-minute shows are highlights of ABC-TV's new fall schedule as the network tries to upstage the standard length program forms, and also unseat the top-rated "Laugh-in" series.

The 45-minute shows, which will appear back-to-back early Monday evenings, are both aimed at the youth racket, and are head-on competitors of "Laugh-in." They are "The Music Scene," which will offer performances of hit records, and "The New People," about young Americans who try to make their own society on an isolated island.

Hosting and guiding "The Music Scene" for viewers will be a West Coast comedy troupe, the Committee, which specializes in biting contemporary satire. This program will open ABC-TV's Monday prime time schedule. And although it is also up against the highly-rated "Gunsmoke," it is aimed mostly at "Laugh-in" because that series also specializes in a young audience.

"The Music Scene" will come on the air half an hour before "Laugh-in," and its chief goal will be to build some momentum toward the top records in the last quarter hour of the show that viewers will stay tuned in instead of switching over to the Rowan and Martin "Laugh-in" entry.

A natural further hope is that if "The Music Scene" can sustain its audience past the start of "Laugh-in"—that is, until the hit records are completed—then ABC-TV's young viewers will carry over into "The New People" series. "The New People" will be an adventure tale. It concerns a planeload of youngsters of varying backgrounds who crash in the South Pacific during a cultural tour to Southeast Asia, and are stranded on the island.

Not Entirely New

Actually, the 45-minute form is not entirely new for commercial television, and especially for ABC-TV. Not too many seasons ago, ABC-TV had a 90-minute series entitled "Arrest and Trial," which was
